

Cookie Count Review Game

By Catherine Slight and Lin Pearson

Preparation

1. Print out all the pages of illustrations.
2. Cut out the number circles and the cookies from the printed sheet.
3. Laminate, or cover with sticky plastic each individual item.
4. Mount the score circles onto a background. then mount the cookies, each one covering a score circle. Blu-Tac, or some other reusable adhesive would do, or magnetic strip, if you have a magnetic board.
5. Note: the reason why the score circles are separate from the cookies is so that they can be jumbled up to play the game another time. That way the children won't become familiar with which cookies have high scores or low!

How to Play

1. Ask a question on the lesson. If a child answers correctly, they receive points for their team (say 50) and then they describe the cookie they want to peep under. Lift off the cookie shape to reveal the score circle under neath. That bonus score is added to the team's total.
2. The winner is the team with the most points after all the cookies have been removed, or when time is up.

A PowerPoint version of this game, and others, is available from our website, www.EffectiveChildrensMinistry.org

Terms and conditions

This material is provided free from www.effectivechildrensministry.org, from where you may download other free items.

All material by Catherine Slight and Lin Pearson is copyrighted. Any image with a copyright line must not have that credit removed. Where images have no copyright line, this in no way implies that the images are copyright free. However, these materials may be freely downloaded, copied and distributed unaltered for the purpose of study and teaching, so long as they are made available to others free of charge, and the copyright is included. This does not include hosting or broadcasting the materials on another website, though linking to the resources on our site is permitted.

These materials may not, in any manner, be sold or used to solicit 'donations' from others, nor may they be included in anything you intend to copyright, sell, or offer for a fee. Any visuals you make will be for your personal use, or for the use of your own team. They may not be reproduced for sale.

This copyright is exercised to keep these materials freely available to all. Any exceptions to these conditions must be explicitly approved by the authors.

Copyright 2010 – Catherine Slight and Lin Pearson.
Web sites: www.EffectiveChildrensMinistry.org

